Re: Form 8871

Dear Sir or Madam:

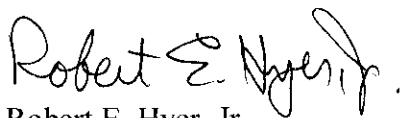

The instructions for Form 8871 require filing both electronically and in writing. When I attempted to file the enclosed electronically, the instructions on the web site required an EIN, which we do not have. These instructions explained we could obtain an EIN immediately, by completing an SS4 and then calling the IRS office for our state.

However, when I called the Austin number, a recorded message told me that they could not take requests for EIN by phone because of the heavy volume of requests. I was advised that I must fax the SS4 to Austin and would receive the EIN "within eight business days."

It was, therefore, impossible to file Form 8871 electronically by today's deadline. I intend to do this as soon as I receive the EIN from Austin. I assume the IRS will waive any non-compliance actions or penalties! (Incidentally, we just became aware of Form 8871 requirements this morning, in a very roundabout way.)

If you have any questions, my daytime phone number is 918/596-5060.

Sincerely,

Robert E. Hyer, Jr.,
Treasurer – Earlene Wilson for County Clerk
